Changes on the Board

Last month Patricia Jollimore resigned from the board. At our most recent board meeting, we appointed Kelly Stacey to fill that vacancy. Kelly is new to AAOS this year. She has been participating in the Market by the Sea farmers' market events and was a vendor at the recent Arts & Crafts Festival. She hopes to be a part of Art Splash next summer.

Kelly moved to Ocean Shores from Portland in March 2021 after retiring from 10 years in Public Health with the State of Oregon and 25 years in investment management.

Making handwoven beaded jewelry is her greatest joy, then traveling with her husband and walks on the beach with her rescue dog, Stinky.

Moving to a small town from a big city was a huge change, and Kelly was happily surprised by how much she loves being in Ocean Shores.

Early this month Jacqueline Horton resigned from the board. Conversations are underway with a couple of people who may be interested in filling that position. For the time being Vicki Garrett, Vice President, and Corrine Holden, Treasurer, will share the duties of the office of President until a new leadership plan can be put in place.

We thank these former board members for their contributions to the ongoing efforts of AAOS and wish them well with their other commitments.

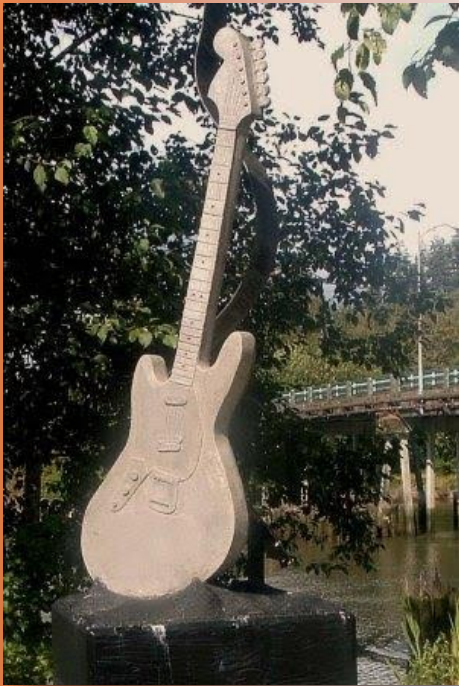

Sincerely,

Vicki & Corrine

Featured Artist of the Month Lora Malakoff

Lora Malakoff began painting in watercolors at 10 years old and by the time she was 13 she had discovered and fallen in love with oil painting. That is her favorite medium, the one that sings with her muse.

Lora is a noted PNW award winning artist. Her oil paintings are in private collections all over the world as well as in museums.

She moved from Alaska to Washington State in the 80s to attend the Art Institute of Seattle. She is also a noted sculptress, her most well known sculpture is a 15 foot guitar at the Kurt Cobain Memorial Park in Aberdeen. Lora has four commissioned sculptures at the Westport Winery Sculpture Garden.

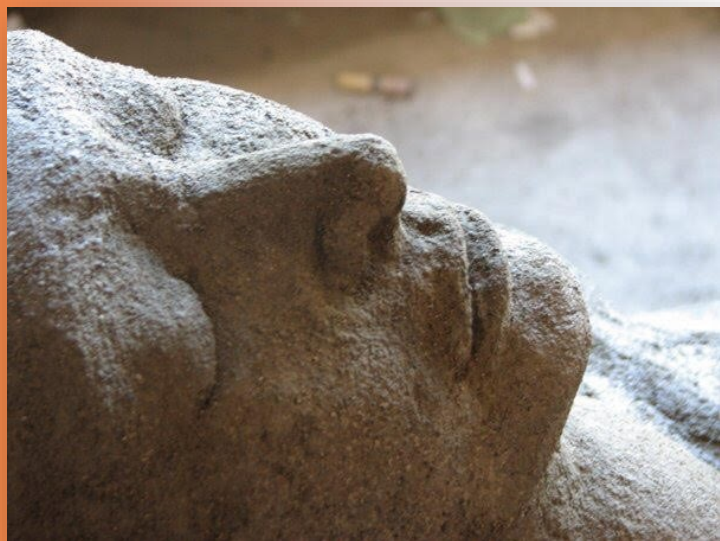

Lora is the Founder and Publishing Editor of the Seniors Sunset Times, which keeps her very busy but she always finds time to paint, teach workshops, create sculptures, design jewelry, support the local arts, and was even a director on the board of the Port Angeles Fine Arts Center.

Lora enjoys spending time creating at her quiet rural home studio on the Strait of Juan de Fuca as she listens to the waves crashing on the beach nearby.

Lora's artwork is available to view and purchase at the Timothy Rossow and Associates Gallery in Ocean Shores and the Aldergrove Gallery in Aberdeen Washington.

You can contact Lora on Facebook, or email her at publishersst@gmail.com or call/text 360-951-2547.

EVENTS

First Friday Art Walk

The first Friday of the month the Aberdeen Art Center and other downtown businesses promote a monthly Art Walk. As part of the Art Walk we like to offer artist demonstrations and live music; usually about 5-8 PM at the center. If you are interested in participating it's free, and 100% of your sales that day are yours to keep.

Coastal Interpretive Center Annual Dinner and Auction
Information on Artist Donation
Deadline September 23rd

Coastal Interpretive Center is requesting art work to put up for auction. The art may be related to nature (similar to the art exhibits we collaborate on with AAOS), but we are not limiting the work to nature themed art.

We would like to have contact information from the artists who wish to donate (as well as promotional information we can include in an auction catalog) by September 23 and art may be dropped off at the Center by September 28. We have switched to our off-season hours, so if artists wish to drop off art during week days, simply contact:

*Laura Caldwell at management@interpretivecenter.org or Barbara Hayford at director@interpretivecenter.org.
Artists may also call us at 360-289-4617.*

The goal of our event is to raise funds to help the Coastal Interpretive Center meet its mission to educate the public on the natural and cultural history of Washington's Pacific Coast and to inspire the joy and wonder of nature. We use the funds to cover education costs related to exhibits and displays and informal STEAM education programs for area students. We include the "art" in STEAM (science, technology, engineering, art and mathematics) because participants retain scientific and technical knowledge longer and at a more meaningful level when learning through the expression of art!

Thank you to all AAOS Artists for your consideration.

Director*

Laura Caldwell Center Administrator

Call for Submissions - Coastal Interpretive Center

The Coastal Interpretive Center (Center) is a 501(c)(3) organization whose mission is to educate about the natural and cultural history of the Washington Coast and inspire the joy and wonder of nature. The Center and the Associated Arts of Ocean Shores (AAOS) have partnered to produce an art exhibit entitled "Under the Sea" which will be on display at the Center from November 12th , 2022 to March 5th , 2023.

The Center and AAOS are seeking artwork inspired by the Washington Coast's marine habitats to display in the exhibit. We define the Washington Coast as extending northward from the Columbia River to Cape Flattery and eastward from the continental shelf to the watersheds draining into the Pacific Ocean.

To submit your work for consideration, please contact Laura Caldwell at management@interpretivecenter.org by October 21st , 2022 with a photograph and description of your artwork including materials, dimensions, year created, and title (if applicable). All mediums of wall hanging visual art will be considered and artists may submit multiple works for consideration.

If selected, artists must be able to deliver their work to the Center between October 29th and November 9th , 2022 for installation. Please have all accepted art ready to hang with picture wire on the back. Your artwork may be featured in promotions for the exhibit.

The Center is unable to sell your work on your behalf. If selected, the Center will retain your work for the duration of the exhibit, but sales may be conducted at your discretion. AAOS will be providing prizes as follows:

1st place $250

2nd place $150

3rd place $50

Judging will be done by a panel of three judges including the Center director or designee, the AAOS president or designee, a member of the art community selected by the AAOS board.

Artists are encouraged, but not required, to be members of AAOS. For more information, please visit:

www.associatedarts.org/membershipsignuporrenewal.

I enjoy working with watercolor to capture the coastal views and interesting places I've visited. Using photography helps me build my paintings. My work can be seen at Mermaid Cove

Collection Highlights : Large Print

The large print collection at the library is always growing, with 6-10 books being donated every month by community member Walter Weed. The large print in these books make them perfect for patrons who have trouble reading the smaller print found in other titles. The collection of 412 titles is shelved separately to make them easy to find.
