President's Message
"AAOS Arts & Crafts Festival Festivities"

Thoughtful people kept asking me "Are you doing all right?" They knew that a large art festival like we have pulls you in a lot of directions and it's hard to please everybody. Boy, talk about large, it was. We blew away past attendance figures. We had volunteers at each door welcoming our patrons and clicking their counters.

So getting back to how I was doing. I had a blast. I am a bit of an adrenalin junkie so being pulled in every direction was just fine for me. There were several times when I was going to put out one fire that another one would spring up. But the blessings far outweighed the fires. The fish print booth was busy, the kids colored more pictures than in the past and we had nearly twice as many vendors as last year. We had a live auction, a silent auction and we had a passport game to make sure that people got into the small hall to see the vendors there.

We had a main stage outside that peaked with 300 people in attendance Saturday night. We also had an indoor stage where, among other things, we gave away cash prizes to the winners of our high school art contest.

None of this could have been done without our amazing leadership team: Mark Simon, Lesli Zielke, Susie Malcolm, Diane Hill, Sharon Gochoel, Karen Fox and our webmaster Vicki Garrett.

The Festival was loaded with festivities. Your president and festival director was pulled in lots of directions but I had fun and look forward to being pulled in even more directions next year.

Tim Rossow
