

Artist of the month for January - Beth Allos

Beth came to Ocean Shores from the Midwest in February of 2018. She is a registered nurse by profession but has been involved in art since early childhood. Her love of color and art all started from children's games of spirographs, spin art and shrinky dinks.

Her art has been in ceramics, jewelry, stained glass, mosaics and metal smithing. Presently, she does ceramic tiles in alcohol ink with a resin coating.

Beth will tell you that she loves color whether it's ocean blue, mermaid green or sunset orange. Alcohol ink is a perfect medium for bright colors; and white tiles make the perfect canvas. Beth's inspiration is the surrounding beauty of the Pacific Northwest.

You can find Beth's art at Alder Grove Gallery in Aberdeen, Octopus Crafts in Ocean Shores, Annual Art Splash Studio Tour of Ocean Shores in August and various festivals throughout Grays Harbor.

Beth is presently a board member of Associated Arts of Ocean Shores.
